Jack Ruby Suit Sold to Museum By Roommate

DALLAS, Tex., June 20 (AP) A former roommate of Jack Ruby says he has sold one of Ruby's suits to the wax museum at the State Fairgrounds for $300.

George Senator said yesterday the transaction was completed last week. He was Ruby's roommate at the time Ruby killed Lee Harvey Oswald on Nov. 24, 1963, two days after President Kennedy was slain in Dallas. The Warren Commission named Oswald as the assassin.

Senator said Ruby gave him the suit three weeks before Ruby shot Oswald. He said he had to sell the suit because he has had trouble getting a job.
